CORE Chat - Our Values in Action - For Managers prepares managers to build the culture of their team through enacting the NSW Health CORE values.

This course supports managers to understand their roles in leading cultural change, interpret and understand team dynamics, apply superior communication skills and develop tools to measure CORE value implementation.

The course is right for you if:

You currently manage people, or are acting in a role with people management responsibilities.

Workplace benefits:

This course equips managers with the skills, knowledge and approaches they need to build the culture of their teams through enacting the NSW Health CORE values. Undertaken after the manager completes the 'all staff' CORE Chat – Our Values in Action workshop, the suite of resources aims to support sustained cultural change, driven from a range of levels.

Learning outcomes:

At the completion of this workshop participants will be able to:

- Understand their roles in leading cultural change and develop tools to measure the implementation of CORE values
- Apply practical ideas with their own team and workplace to further progress CORE values in the workplace
- Discuss with other managers and team leaders the challenges of change management and what CORE values look like in action.

Course entry requirements:

Because this workshop builds on established knowledge, it is a pre requisite that managers attended the CORE Chat - Our Values in Action workshop before attending CORE Chat – Our Values in Action for Managers.

Accreditation:

This course may be mapped to nationally-endorsed units of competency in 2017. Check the status of this work with the Management Development unit.
