

Aboriginal Nursing and Midwifery Leadership Strategy

Are you an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander nurse or midwife?

You are invited to attend a consultation session facilitated by Nursing and Midwifery Office (NaMO).

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander nursing and midwifery staff are invited to come together to connect, yarn and contribute to the development of the NSW Health Aboriginal Nursing and Midwifery Leadership Strategy.

Your expertise will support NaMO to develop a statewide strategy that will strengthen existing workforce strategies and enhance leadership development of the NSW Health Aboriginal nursing and midwifery workforce.

To register your interest before 22 April, please contact:
